"gauge" means the Imperial Standard Wire Gauge;
"plain band saw" means a band saw, other than a log saw or a band resawing machine, the cutting portion of which runs in a vertical direction;
"planing machine" includes a machine for overhand planing or for thicknessing or for both operations;
"woodworking machine" means a circular saw, plain band saw, planing machine, vertical spindle moulding machine or chain mortising machine operating on wood.

3. (1) It shall be the duty of the occupier to observe Part I of these regulations.

5. (1) Every circular saw shall be fenced as follows:—
(a) The part of the saw below the bench table shall except where the part, below the bench is completely enclosed, be protected by two plates of metal or other suitable material, one on each side of the saw; such plates shall not be more than six inches apart, and shall extend from the axis of the saw outwards to a distance of not less than two inches beyond the teeth of the saw. Metal plates, if not beaded, shall be of a thickness at least equal to 14 gauge, or, if beaded, be of a thickness at least equal to 20 gauge.
(b) Behind and in a direct line with the saw there shall be a riving knife, which shall have a smooth surface, shall be strong, rigid and easily adjustable, and shall also conform to the following conditions—
(i) the edge of the knife nearer the saw shall form an arc of a circle having a radius not exceeding the radius of the largest saw used on the bench;
(ii) the knife shall be maintained as close as practicable to the saw, having regard to the nature of the work being done at the time, and at the level of the bench table the distance between the front edge of the knife and teeth of the saw shall not exceed half an inch;
(iii) for a saw of a diameter of less than 24 inches, the knife shall extend upwards from the bench table to within one inch of the top of the saw, and for a saw of a diameter of 24 inches or over shall extend upwards from the bench table to a height of at least nine inches.
(c) The top of the saw shall be covered by a strong and easily adjustable guard, with a flange at the side of the saw furthest from the fence. The guard shall be kept so adjusted that the said flange shall extend below the roots of the teeth of the saw. The guard shall extend from the top of the riving knife to a point as low as practicable at the cutting edge of the saw.

6. A suitable push-stick shall be kept available for use at the bench of every circular saw which is fed by hand, to enable the work to be carried on without unnecessary risk.
7. Every plain band saw shall be fenced as follows—

(a) both sides of the bottom pulley shall be completely encased by sheet metal or other suitable material;

(b) the front of the top pulley shall be covered with sheet metal or other suitable material;

(c) all portions of the blade shall be enclosed or otherwise securely guarded, except the portion of the blade between the bench table and the top guide.

9. The feed roller of every planing machine used for thicknessing, except the combined machine for overhand planing and thicknessing, shall be provided with an efficient guard:

10. No planing machine, which is not mechanically fed, shall be used for overhand planing unless it is fitted with a cylindrical cutter block.

11. The cutter of every vertical spindle moulding machine shall when practicable be provided with the most efficient guard having regard to the nature of the work which is being performed.

12. For such work as cannot be performed with an efficient guard for the cutter, the wood being moulded at every vertical spindle moulding machine, shall, if practicable, be held in a jig or holder of such construction as to reduce as far as possible the risk of accident to the worker.

13. A suitable "spike" or push-stick shall be kept available for use at the bench of every vertical spindle moulding machine.

14. The chain of every chain mortising machine shall be provided with a guard which shall enclose the cutters as far as practicable.

The guards and other appliances required by these regulations shall be maintained in an efficient state and shall be constantly kept in position while the machine is in motion, except when, owing to the nature of the work being done, the use of the guards or appliances is rendered impracticable. The guards shall be so adjusted as to enable the work to be carried on without unnecessary risk.

16. Regulations 5, 7, 8 and 9 shall apply not to any woodworking machine in respect of which it can be shown to the satisfaction of the Chief Inspector that other safeguards are provided and maintained which render the machine equally safe as it would be if guarded in the manner prescribed by these regulations.
PART II

DUTIES OF PERSONS EMPLOYED

17. (1) Every person employed on a woodworking machine shall—

(a) use and maintain in proper adjustment the guards provided in accordance with these regulations;

(b) use the "spikes" or push-sticks and holders provided in compliance with regulations 6, 12 and 13;
