EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note does not form part of the above Decree, but is intended to explain its purpose)

The Decree amends the Robbery and Firearms (Special Provisions) Decree 1970 as follows—

By virtue of section 1 of this Decree, it shall no longer be a capital offence to commit the offence of robbery if no weapon is used and no wound is caused.

Section 2 of this Decree inserts a new section in the principal Decree which makes it clear that abetment and conspiracy are punishable in the same way as the principal offences.

Section 3 of the Decree amends section 5 of the principal Decree so as to ensure that the judicial functionary of a State to be entrusted with the pronouncement of a verdict involving the death penalty should not be below the rank of a High Court Judge.

Section 4 of the Decree amends section 6 (1) of the principal Decree so as to place the primary responsibility for the institution of proceedings upon the Attorney-General, or where there is no Attorney-General the Solicitor-General, of a State rather than the Director of Public Prosecutions.

Section 5 of the Decree amends the definition of “firearm” to include explosives and ammunition and expands the definition of “offensive weapon” to include firearm.
